DINO DAYS 2025 RECAP

2025 was a successful Dino Days, full of activities and fun for all types. We had the beer gardens start on Friday afternoon, and the sublime sounds of Eve Lacey preceded the Home Run Derby. Oh my gosh, does Miss Lacey have great talent! Rafter R brewery set up across from the Tiki Bar and both seemed busy all night. The fireworks were set off in the rodeo grounds this year, and aside from the folks under the trees, it was a clear view from the ball diamonds. The pancake Breakfast on Saturday was run by the Eastend Light Horse Improvement Society. There was no waiting for my pancakes or sausages and the pancakes was perfectly prepared. Those are two great and rare things to find at a pancake breakfast! If you stepped outside the Tea Room after breakfast, you would see the Eastend Library's "Story Walk" on the lawn. The library also had free henna tattoos for kids. The parade went off without a hitch. Ken Wills led us with his steam tractor, followed by the RCMP and then Raylin Bidaux as flag bearer on horseback. I was the vehicle immediately following the horse, and she did a great job controlling the horse with all the distractions. After the parade, the car show on Maple Ave. started to become populated with new and old 4-wheeled treasures as the "Friday" market took place at the town square and Alleykatz grilled burgers for the huge crowds. The Eastend Scenic Rail Tours had a special train tour at this time, only 6 people were selected for this ride. This was a "test run" for the eventual regular operation of the train tours in the future. Next was the demo derby in the motocross hills. Oh boy did it rain and turn that whole place into a mud pit. The mud didn't stop the derby, nor did it stop the live music afterward performed by the Osinski Bros. and The Country Band. I do believe the rain and cracking thunderstorm that happened at midnight might have put a damper on the live music, but they gave it their all.

On Sunday, there was an inter-faith church service while members of the Lighthorse Improvement Society and of the Eastend Chamber of Commerce had their annual "Caesar Sunday" featuring delicious food and drink in the town square from 10:30am-3pm. I am amazed at delighted at the large numbers of people that came out to support Caesar Sunday after the exhausting previous days of partying. This year, I created a timeline of the weekend in photos inside , thank you to Kim Redlin for the parade photos, and Rosa Vazquez and Heidi Topham for their photos as well.

LUNASA FESTIVAL THIS SATURDAY

You thought the celebrating and walking around in the gorgeous sunshine was over? Don't be silly, Maple Creek is having their Lunasa Festival on Saturday from 10am-4pm. Come on and join in, it's a holiday weekend!
